FOOTPRINTS OF DINOSAUR

Miners in a coal mine at Chandler, Colo., recently found the footprints of a giant dinosaur, which must have waded through the mud some 5,000 years ago, reports the Seattle Post Intelligencer.

DOCTORS KNOW

Mothers read this:

THREE STEPS — I TO RELIEVING — II — III CONSTIPATION

A cleansing dose today; a smaller quantity tomorrow; less each time, until bowels need no help at all.

Why do people come home from a hospital with bowels working like a well-regulated watch?

The answer is simple, and it's the answer to all your bowel worries if you will only realize it: many doctors and hospitals use liquid laxatives.

If you knew what a doctor knows, you would use only the liquid form. A liquid can always be taken in gradually reduced doses. Reduced dosage is the secret of any real relief from constipation.

Ask a doctor about this. Ask your druggist how very popular liquid laxatives have become. They give the right kind of help, and right amount of help. The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara — both natural laxatives that can form no habit, even in children. So, try Syrup Pepsin. You just take regulated doses till Nature restores regularity.

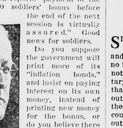
The Bonus at Last?
A Little on Account
Teagle Will Sell Oil
The Oceans Are Cheer

Washington reports "payment of the $3,000,000,000 soldiers' bonus before the end of the next session is virtually assured." Good news for soldiers.



Arthur Brisbane

Do you suppose the government will print more of its "inflation bonds," and insist on paying interest on its own money, instead of printing new money for the bonus, or do you believe there must be some limits to stupidity?

The League of Nations wants us to "clarify our position." It would be made clear if the President would write to the League of Nations: "Our position is this: 'We are attending to our business, and advise you to do the same. Also, what about a little cash on account of $10,000,000,000 you owe us on the last war?'"

Walter Teagle, head of the Standard Oil of New Jersey, disposes sensibly of the suggestion that all Americans should refuse to sell oil to Italy. He says Standard Oil is not in the League of Nations and he will continue selling oil though his Italian subsidiary.

This is news. Important especially to California, where real estate prosperity grows with improved transcontinental trips.

The Santa Fe railroad, with a diesel engine, hauling nine steel cars and using 3,000 horsepower, has cut 15 hours from the running time between Los Angeles and Chicago.

Queer things happen in Ethiopia. The Daily Express says former Vice Minister Fitowrary Berru, in disgrace with Mussolini because he spent too much money, walked, as a penitent, into the presence of the emperor, carrying on his back a heavy grindstone, and kneeled down in sign of submission. The emperor rolled the stone off his back, meaning forgiveness, and Fitowrary Berru is off spending money again. Some of our friends' names and "little pig" ministers might do this.

Here is war news:

England's soft-voiced Foreign Secretary Hoare, Sir Samuel, says England, Italy to make peace with Ethiopia, while there is still time. "Sanctions" have not yet been applied. England and other countries are selling goods to Italy. "While the guns holds out to burn, the vilest sinner may repent."

You may see a new kind of "Olympic games" with Ethiopian tribesmen running and wearing gas masks. In future wars soldiers will wear masks and civilians will wear them. Ability to run in gas masks will be important.

Russia keeps mum, and "training for the next war" eight men and women of the Osoaviakhim (society for aviation and chemical defense) marched 31 miles in gas masks in 10 hours 17 minutes, a world record.

General Smuts, minister of Justice in Englana's Ministry of South Africa, says: "Annexation of Ethiopia or its domination by a great European power will mean training one of the biggest, most dangerous black armies the world has ever seen."

General Smuts worries about the conquering power of such a gigantic "black army" under Italians.

One pale chemist inventing a better poison gas, or more destructive explosives, and a few first-class pilots could "take care of any 'black army'" that Ethiopia might send forth.

The American Federation of Labor asks American athletes not to attend the 1936 Olympic games, if they are held in Germany. Germany is famous for "banning German Olympics," the federation says. Hitler is crushing labor unions "with blood and fire."

There is a better reason for not holding the 1936 Olympics in Germany.

The chief value of sport is in the fact that manly exercise is supposed, primarily, to develop and inspire courage.

The spectacle of 60,000,000 Germans cruelly persecuting and suppressing 600,000 German Jews is not exactly a picture of courage.

President Roosevelt has said that he intends to keep out of European complications. He will not let Europe complicate our foreign business, making it impossible for American governments to operate merely to oblige European competitors. In any case our foreign friends should at least start paying the ten thousand million dollars they borrowed before asking the United States to lose more money for their sweet sake.

Hoare Promises Britain Will Not Fight With Italy—Laval's Peace Efforts Continued—President Roosevelt Returns to Washington.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD
© Western Newspaper Union.

SIR SAMUEL HOARE, British foreign secretary, assured parliament and the world that Great Britain has no intention of fighting Italy and would not alone apply military sanctions against that nation. He held out strong hopes that the war in Africa could be settled without resort by the league to extreme measures. His speech was plainly an invitation to Italy to talk peace terms.

Sir Samuel Hoare

Denying that the government's policy is hostile to Fascism, Sir Samuel said:

"We have not the least intention of interfering in the domestic affairs of other people."

"The unbroken solidarity of the empire is behind the government's policy," he said. "Let those prophets of misfortune who have marked the empire down for decay and dissolution observe this fact of overwhelming importance."

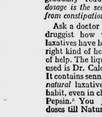
Hoare hinted at British isolation from continental affairs if the league collapses.

Next day Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin warmly endorsed all that Hoare and Capt. Anthony Eden have done at Geneva. He deprecated even the use of the word war, but called for a rearming of the empire, saying: "In the interests of world peace it is essential our defensive services should be stronger than they are today."

Baldwin announced the adjournment of parliament on October 25 and the election of a new parliament on November 14. The campaign already is under way and is lively, with the international situation forcibly injected as the issue. The Labor party accuses the government of delaying action in the Italo-Ethiopian embroglio until it was late to prove really effective, and impugns its motive in seeking rearmament.

MUSSOLINI made one conciliatory gesture toward Great Britain when he agreed to withdraw a division of troops from Libya; and at the same time he urged that France and Britain make quick reply to his peace proposations. But it became known the troops were to be moved from Libya to Italy, where they would be almost as much a menace to Egypt; and the dispatch was in terms so arrogant that there was no prospect that they would be accepted by anyone concerned. Ethiopia declared emperor of Ethiopia, an international protectorate over the central regions and an Italian protectorate over the remainder.

Addressing the foreign affairs committee of the French chamber of deputies, Premier Laval announced he would seek only a compromise that would be fully acceptable to the League of Nations and declared: "Immediate application of the sanctions would mean the immediate war. Frankly, I do not want war. France's battleships would steam immediately to the assistance of Britain if the latter's fleet was attacked by Italy.



Pierre Laval

WHILE Premier Pierre Laval of France was still trying energetically to find a way of settling the Italo-Ethiopian quarrel that would be acceptable to both Great Britain and Italy he encountered opposition with regard to Ethiopia's real interests — fifty-two members of the League of Nations declared a boycott on all Italian goods and an embargo on various key exports to the country. The boycott binds these nations to prohibit importation of "all goods consigned from and grown, produced or manufactured in Italy or in Italian possessions from whatever place they arrive."

If duly enforced, this would cut off about two-thirds of the export trade which was Italy's principal source of funds for prosecution of the war in Africa. To counteract applying the sanctions agree to aid one another in compensating losses by increased trade facilities, credits, cash loans if possible, and discriminating against league members such as Austria and Hungary which continue to trade with Italy.

Austria, Hungary and Albania spoke against the sanctions. Switzerland, which seeks to preserve her traditional neutrality, was silent. Some South American republics made complicated reservations.

It was decided that the sanctions should be put in force on October 31, and Laval thus had time to continue his peace efforts. These seemed to center on a way to "internationalize" Italian occupation of that part of northern Ethiopia which Mussolini's troops have seized and to arrange for Italy's partial control over the entire empire.

GEN. RUDOLFO GRAZIANI'S forces in southern Ethiopia were reported to have won several important victories in their advance toward Harrar and the railway. They captured some towns despite desperate resistance by the natives, and took many prisoners. The main movement in that region was up the Webbe Shibeli river. The Ethiopians were repeatedly dispersed by aerial bombs.

In Tigre province, on the north, the Italians were consolidating their positions and preparing for another big thrust toward Addis Ababa. Their line there extended nearly 70 miles from Adigrat through Aduwa to the holy city of Aksum.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, deeply tanned and in fine spirits, returned to the White House, his holiday tour ended. When he landed from the cruiser Houston at Charleston, S. C., he held a big crowd gathered to welcome him that the country is on its way back to prosperity under the planned economy of his administration, "and don't let anybody tell you differently."

At an informal press conference just before he left the cruiser, the President was asked to comment on the "impending collapse" of his drive to put three and a half million employables on relief to work by November 1. He replied that November 30 was 20 days off and that November 1 had never been set as the deadline, and that he had been very careful to say that substantially three and a half million persons would be put to work. If three million are at work by November 20 he said he would be satisfied with the four-billion-dollar program, and that it could not then be considered to have fallen down.

One of Mr. Roosevelt's first appointments in Washington was for a talk with Secretary of State Hull on the European situation.

FOR the third time in his career Mackenzie King is now prime minister of Canada, following the victory of the Liberal party in the election and R. Bennett and his Conservative party is beat resigned and King was called on to form a new government in which he did at once. He has been premier in as prime minister, president of the privy council and secretary of state for external affairs. Arthur Meighen, a Crerar of Winnipeg was made minister of finance and colonization, interior and Indian affairs. Dunning of Montreal is the new minister of finance and W. D. Euler of Kitchener has the trade and commerce portfolio. All the cabinet positions except that of agriculture were filled at once.

The resignation of W. D. Herridge as minister to Washington was accepted. The following commissions were announced: The department of national revenue and the Canadian customs of dumping duties, the following commodities: Canada: Plums, prunes, radishes, spinach, and peaches.

ONE of the government's much publicized drives against delinquent income tax evaders of Louisiana failed when a jury in Federal court at New Orleans returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of Abraham L. Shushan, one of the leading associates of the late Senator Long. The defendant was declared to owe $71,000 in taxes. The verdict was received with cheers by the crowd in the courtroom, and in the corridors outside several news photographers were beaten up by former members of Long's bodyguard—which seems to be a habit in Louisiana.

NEARLY 5,000 men and women from all parts of the United States gathered in Chicago and held a national convention of the Townsend plan, which, as most people know, would give every person sixty years of age $200 per month income if the person agreed to spend it all within the month, but not work or have an income all told of more than $2,400 a year.

The elderly California doctor who devised the plan was present, and the convention proudly marched took the work of formulating a campaign to secure the adoption of the plan at the coming session of congress.

FIRST of the big eastern railroads to seek reorganization under the new amended bankruptcy act is the New York, New Haven and Hartford, which serves one of the most densely populated sections of the country. Its petition was filed in federal court asking to meet taxes of $4,000,000 and interest of $2,289,000.

The railroad had sought another loan from the government, but the Interstate Commerce commission rejected the plea. The company had cleaned its treasury of collateral to secure loans of $7,626,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation, $8,231,000 from the Railroad Credit corporation, and $10,000,000 from banks. The treasury of $2,289,000 was exhausted. It controls about 15 per cent of New Haven stock, did not appear ready to guarantee a further extension of credit.

"GERMANY is becoming a barren nation, intellectually, culturally and scientifically, under Hitler," Italy was the way Alfred E. Smith opened an appeal for financial aid for non-Aryan Christian and political refugees from Germany, at a dinner in New York held under the joint auspices of the American Christian Committee for German Refugees and the Emergency Committee in Aid of Political Refugees from Nazi-ism.

"I am informed that at this very moment I am speaking, 2,500 German refugees are on the verge of starvation," the former New York governor said. "Centers now operating and serving these refugees in Europe must be supplied quickly with money. They need aid, or will be forced to discontinue their work."

Dr. Albert Einstein, the eminent scientist, also was present and said German Fascism is directed mostly "against my Jewish brothers. The reason given is to purify the Aryan race in Germany. As a matter of fact such Aryan race exists and the myth of same has been invented solely to motivate the persecution and robbery of the Jews."

ALL states and communities have been asked by Aubrey Williams acting WPA administrator, to devise better provisions for the care of "unemployables," for federal aid for the needy will soon be confined to providing jobs. In an interview Mr. Williams said that with six states already cut off the dole, progress of the work relief program would bring liquidation of relief administrations in "the great majority of the remaining states" during November. This will leave those physically or mentally unable to work, the aged, mothers with dependent children, and other handicapped families and individuals, dependent upon local efforts.

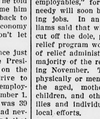
DR. HUGH S. MAGILL, who as president of the American Federation of Investors has been annoyed by congressional investigators, has written to all members of congress a letter asking whether American citizens "still have the right to express their approval or disapproval with respect to pending legislation without being harassed by 'inquisitors.'"

The federation opposed the recent enactment of the "death sentence" for "unnecessary" holding companies and was under investigation by the senate lobby committee.

In an open letter to senators and representatives Magill said he had "refused" to permit representatives of the committee "to read my personal mail to my correspondents." He asserted the federation "is not a lobby-organization as that term is commonly used now."

DEATH came to an eminent American, Maj. Gen. Adolphus W. Greely, U. S. A., retired, at the age of ninety-five. He passed away in Walter Reed hospital, Washington, and was buried in Arlington national cemetery with full military honors. Greely was universally known as the leader of the ill-fated expedition into the Arctic regions in 1881 from which only he and seven others returned alive. But he was a soldier and had the Civil war with distinction, and after that had many accomplishments won him international fame.

ARTHUR HENDERSON, president of the world disarmament conference and a most determined foe of war, died in a London hospital.



Arthur Henderson

He was seventy-two years old and had been ill for a long time, an illness that he had not allowed to interfere with a newspaper for six weeks and did not know that another one had broken out and that the peace of Europe was threatened. The former iron molder and machinist became a leader of the British Labor party and was foreign secretary when it was in power, was awarded the Nobel peace prize in 1934. It was through peace and disarmament was inspired by the death of his eldest son in the World war. He was a gentle, much loved man, a genuine idealist whose latter years were made sorrowful by the collapse of failure of the disarmament conference to get results.

HELENA, capital of Montana, and all of the western part of that state were terrified by a series of earthquake shocks extending through a number of days. There were no fatalities, but numerous buildings were damaged or so weakened that they had to be razed. Hundreds of persons were driven from their homes, and the state militia was ordered into the stricken area.

EDWARD HENRY CARSON, who in 1921 was made Baron Carson of Duncairn, and himself a leader at the age of eighty-one years, ending a strange career of opposition to home rule mainly with Irish politics. A Protestant who became leader of the Ulster party, he entered into a plot to foment Ulster rebellion in 1914 against the home rule bill and secured its postponement. When the war broke he turned his army to the battlefields of France and himself became at the age cabinet.

After the war Carson threw himself into the fight against the establishment of the Irish Free States and succeeded in securing the partition by which the six Ulster counties separated from the rest of Ireland.

MEANING OF KIDNAPING

Kidnaping has a broad meaning in criminal law and many who have committed this crime unknowingly have been sent to prison. In most states "intent" is not necessary and, secondly, the offense includes "taking or detaining" anyone against his will. One odd case on record is that of a man who was convicted of kidnaping his wife because he forced her to accompany him on a journey.—Collier's Weekly.
